The elder told me, "they are not our enemies, but if they knew you are here, none of us can protect you. They will fight against us and your head will be taken away. I have no power to save you. Remain quiet. I will try to find a way to save you". Order was given to the villagers not to disclose that the 'white man' came. I was taken to a small room, where I could hardly breathe. Never in my life did I pray as I prayed that night. After half an hour, I was frightened by a running rat and the clapping of a cock's wings before crowing, Elder came smiling and called me out saying, "there is no danger, these people are your friends" I praised my heavenly Father for my life.
